Award hat-trick for Cofunds

For the third consecutive year Cofunds has won a prestigious Systems in the City award for its institutional service.

The platform has added to its 2011 and 2012 'Best Custody Platform' award by last week winning the 'Best Platform' award for its institutional service. Cofunds is the only platform to have won a Systems in the City award for three consecutive years.

In addition, special recognition was given to Bradley Lewis, Business Development Manager, who won the Systems in the City 'Sales Executive of the Year' award.

Each year in recognition of the systems suppliers within the financial services industry, Goodacre UK seeks feedback from users of systems and based on these comments, it awards the GoodAccreditation standard. The GoodAccreditation standards are announced at the annual Systems in the City Awards dinner. There are a variety of awards, split between company and individual categories.

About Cofunds

Cofunds is the leading investment platform for advisers and other financial institutions, with assets under administration over £52bn (as at 01.04.13). It provides flexible administration and management services for advisers and their clients as well as dealing and custody services for financial institutions. It does not offer investment management or advice, nor does it compete with advisers by offering its services direct to the end client. Cofunds exists to serve the needs of institutions, advisers, their clients, and fund managers. Cofunds is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority.
