

COFUNDS LAUNCHES FIRST LUXEMBOURG DOMICILED FUNDS ON ITS PLATFORM

Cofunds, the UK's leading independent fund platform, today announced that it will make a number of Luxembourg domiciled funds available on its platform from 16th February.

The initial selection was made after consultation with advisers who are interested in the more specialist funds. It provides access to funds managed by Aberdeen Asset Management, Fidelity International and Franklin Templeton. The full list is given below.

Anthony Wolfe, Strategic Development Director, said "This is a further important step forward in our development. Our research showed us that there was significant interest in funds from well-known asset managers who offer funds based in European domiciles, offering access to emerging markets and other specialist areas. So we have now built the links so that advisers can include these funds in their Cofunds portfolios alongside UK domiciled funds.

Importantly, this will allow these funds to be included in ISAs and any SIPP or SSAS pension business available through Cofunds technology, where they will be valued online alongside all the client's other assets.
