MitonOptimal are a specialist boutique who have helped pioneer the success of multi-manager non-benchmarked funds within the intermediary community.

Steve Carr from MitonOptimal said "The overall demand for multi-manager products is steadily increasing and it will become ever more important for IFAs to have their clients money actively managed to protect them from down side risk.

Given our company's experience and focus on this area, our expertise in asset allocation and coupled with an outstanding long term performance record, we feel that the time is right to bring our fund offerings to a wider audience. Our clients and those wishing to invest with us have been telling us that joining Cofunds would be an important step in that journey and we have been delighted that they have responded so quickly in adding us."

Russell Lancaster, Cofunds Director of Fund Manager Relations, said "This year we have seen increasing demand for smaller management groups. We are keen to provide as many products as our customers want to use. As advisers become more comfortable with the use of platforms, they are discovering how easy it is to bring new groups into their portfolios. Electronic switching is tax-free in ISAs and SIPPS and very easy and inexpensive on Cofunds.
